Finance Director Angelica Alexander approached the rostrum to explain this ordinance is the final amendment to the Fiscal Year 2024 Budget, which would reconcile the budget to finish out the annual financial audit. She provided a presentation entitled FY2024 Fiscal Conditions Report, reporting the projected revenue versus actuals in revenue received. During the discussion, Director Alexander responded to questions regarding the overages in various departmental budgets and how these overages are covered by savings from other departments, and the monies left over are then added to the Fund Balance.

REFERRAL(S):

FOR THE CITY MANAGER:

- Add the presentation shown online, as it was not included as part of the online agenda packet.
(Request of Councilor Tucker)

3. 1st Reading- An ordinance to revise and clarify certain provisions of Chapter 19 of the Columbus Code which provide for business activities not covered by this chapter; to update occupation tax due dates and payment provisions; and for other purposes. (Mayor Pro-Tem) (Public Hearing Held) Councilor Tucker made a motion to allow quarterly occupational tax payments for calendar year 2025 to only those businesses that participated in quarterly payments in 2024, seconded by Councilor Davis and opened for discussion. Councilor Crabb made a substitute motion to amend by removing Section 2 of the proposed ordinance as it pertains to Code Section 19-59 of the Columbus Code, seconded by Councilor Hickey and carried by a six-to-two vote, with Mayor Pro Tem Allen and Councilors Chambers, Crabb, Hickey, Huff and Tucker voting in favor, Councilors Cogle and Davis voting in opposition, and Councilors Garrett and Thomas being absent for the meeting.

Finance Director Angelica Alexander approached the rostrum to explain the proposed changes to Chapter 19 of the Columbus Code of Ordinances. She explained the first change is for Code Section 19-57 that addresses the occupation tax exemptions, which has not been updated since 1995 and does not reflect many statewide exemptions, and this amendment to the code would provide a good point of reference for local businesses. She continued by explaining the second change is to Code Section 19-59 that addresses the allowance of quarterly payments for occupation taxes and is a necessary change in preparing to accept online renewals and ensuring the Revenue Division operates more efficiently. Director Alexander went on to explain accepting quarterly payments is not conducive with the online system.

Several councilors expressed concerns in not allowing smaller businesses to make quarterly payments, especially without receiving mailed notification of the policy change for them to make preparations and expressed their desire to continue allowing them to make quarterly payments.

During the discussion, City Manager Isaiah Hugley stated that he would strongly encourage that the Administration be allowed to work with the business that currently have quarterly payments, because with the need to be automated, he would asked Council to adopt the ordinance but with a clause that after December 31, 2025, there would no longer be an option other than online renewals.

After Councilor Charmaine Crabb recommended a delay to allow the Finance Director to communicate to the vendor the intent of Councilors to allow businesses to continue with quarterly payments, City Manager Isaiah Hugley maintained that any delays in this ordinance would cause it to not go into effect on January 1, 2025; thereby, delaying the automation for at least another year.
